

Title:

Becoming a Qualified Driving Instructor in the UK

Word Count:

304

Summary:

Becoming an Approved Driving Instructor (ADI) requires a substantial commitment of your time,

Keywords:

driving instructor course, driving instructor training, uk

Article Body:

Becoming an Approved Driving Instructor (ADI) requires a substantial commitment of your time,

The following notes outline the requirements for becoming an ADI and are summarized from the D

Eligibility to Become an Instructor

Not everyone can apply to become an ADI. To do so you must satisfy the following requirements:

- You must hold a full and unrestricted UK or European Union (EU) European Economic Area
- You must have held this license for a total of four out of the past six years prior to
- You must not have been disqualified from driving at any time in the four years prior to
- You must be a fit and proper person to have your name entered on the Register. All mot
- You must pass the Register Qualifying Examination and pay the appropriate fees.

Prerequisites

No formal academic qualifications are needed to become a driving instructor, but individuals m

Before starting training they must:

- have held a full UK or Northern Ireland driving license for four out of the last six y
- not have been disqualified from driving at any time in the last four years
- be a fit and proper person - all convictions, including motoring convictions will be t
- pass the ADI qualifying exam.

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>