Buying Peace of Mind

Article Body:

With high-end technology and the latest "gotta-have-it" gadgets, life is becoming more complicated.

Consider a typical college student's list of necessities: computer, printer, USB drive, assortment of cables, and more.

For many parents, an extended service plan is the answer. Anyone who has ever purchased a big-ticket item knows how frustrating it can be to have a problem with the product.

While products should be able to take their share of bumps and bruises, having a service plan can provide peace of mind.

"For parents whose kids are in or heading off to college, service plans offer peace of mind that their investments are protected."

Service plans typically cover 100 percent of the parts and labor costs or full replacement for the product.
