Are you an elementary school teacher or a home school mom that is burned out of coming up with

I recently retired from teaching after having a fourth grade classroom for nearly thirty five

Five years before retirement another teacher gave me some of the best and most relieving advice

At first I laughed at her and responded with a simple "yeah right." I had myself convinced that

I began to look around for other sources of elementary lesson plans during the summer between

So teachers, regardless of how long you've been in the classroom, start looking now for great
