Article Body:

At brianbashing.com, getting answers to your questions is as simple as drinking a cup of tea. This is because as soon as you post your question, members on the site will read it and attempt to answer the question in case they have knowledge about it. You may even receive answers from experts in a particular field. Take the example of a finance question that you have in your mind. You have bought shares at a particular price and you are confused in which way the market will grow. You want to know whether you can sell your shares right now or sell them in the future to get more profit. Hence you can post a question regarding the same and get excellent answers from experts. However you should remember that the people who answer are not liable for any means for any losses or injury suffered by you when you act on their answers. Hence you are the best judge as to which answers you can act on.

Registration on brainbashing is very simple. You just have to create a unique user name, password and enter your email. Once you fill in these details, you become a member of the site. However you can also post in questions leaving the name as anonymous. You can post a question in any category you want. It is better to post the question in the relevant category as there are some users who want to answer questions only in a particular category. Hence a doctor, who is a member of the site would like to go the health section more often and answer health related questions. Likewise you can even answer questions posted by others. You can give your views and even provide factual information. If you find a particular question interesting you can even send it to your friend. In case you want to answer the question later on, you can simply mark the question into your account to answer at a later stage.

You will find that many students have also joined the site. This is because students are hungry for knowledge and they have a tendency to ask questions related to science, mathematics, etc. On brainbashing they can discuss questions with other people as well till they get the right and most appropriate answer. In case you are looking for synonyms or antonyms for a particular word, you can simply enter it on the site. Once you enter the word, you will get a long list of antonyms as well as synonyms. The site also proves to be reliable in terms of thesaurus, online dictionary, etc. The "Did you know" part on the home page is very interesting. Whenever you log on to the site you can see a new entry. For example, the largest squid ever caught weighed 4,000 kgs. People find such facts very interesting.

Brainbashing also gives away prizes to individuals that sign up to the monthly newsletter, no input needed, just read the newsletter and see if you are a winner of that months prize.
