

Title:

History Lesson - Thinking Of Others

Word Count:

550

Summary:

There are some old sayings that can be traced back to the Bible and the Golden Rule: It is far

That's not the rules we usually live by today. Today we live in a cutthroat world where we str

Keywords:

history, learning, education

Article Body:

There are some old sayings that can be traced back to the Bible and the Golden Rule: It is far

That's not the rules we usually live by today. Today we live in a cutthroat world where we str

Throughout the ages humanity has mostly put the protective care of self first. It's one of hum

And of course this mentality is critical when we are encouraged to never quit, finish what we

But what folks need to remember is very plain: You receive great fulfillment when you give of

Ever wonder what the reason for this is? It is because doing for others is one of our secondar

There are many troubles in the world and it is easy to focus on the negative. However you can

Have you ever visited a senior citizen in a retirement home? It made you feel pretty good didn

Remember seeing the blind man on the street who played his guitar for you when you gave him a

We are wise to invest a lot of time helping others. This really is our whole purpose in life -

There are great benefits to be realized by the community, the person you are helping, and your

And lastly, remember that everyone has different tastes, likes, and dislikes. Some like footba

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>