

Title:

Learn Quality Education From A Distance

Word Count:

570

Summary:

Distance education or distance learning is a teaching method by which a student does not have

Distance education is the conveyance of knowledge from a far. ...

Keywords:

online education, distance learning, master degree, degrees online

Article Body:

Distance education or distance learning is a teaching method by which a student does not have

Distance education is the conveyance of knowledge from a far. The process is done by providing

Students enrolled in distance education normally receive mail. In this mail, they may receive

In many countries, televisions and radio programming are used as a mode of education. The most

They use educational animations for more convenient learning. They use high quality of education

Students may study fulltime or part-time. Most of the students go part-time. Most of the students

This type of education is being offered at any level. Usually, it is given to university level

The program in distance education is called correspondence courses. Vocational education is the University of South Africa is one of the oldest universities who have been offering distance education

If you are a student, what are the things you need to do in order to be successful as an online student?

- You must learn how to manage your time. Students who succeeded in distance education are very

- You also need to balance some of your personal obligations. Even if you take a part-time distance

- Find the best environment for your study. Find a place for study that is disruption free. Learn

- Feel free to ask questions - You can always direct inquiries to your teachers.

- Put effort in the studying. Remember that patient is a virtue. Always have time to study your

Distance education is the easiest, more convenient way to gain knowledge. There are many universities

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>