

Title:

Silk - History And Facts

Word Count:

539

Summary:

A look at the early history of silk production from its first discovery and advances and the p

Keywords:

silk

Article Body:

Silk may be just another fabric to most of us. But the truth is, silk is a very unique fabric

The actual discovery of silk, from the silkworm species Bombyx mori happened around 2700 BC.

The manufacture of silk gradually made its way to Europe and America. During the 18th and 19th

The silkworm itself is actually a common name for the silk producing larvae of many different

The silk industry is the main industry in Thailand, Japan and China. Most of the silk product

The cost of silk products from these countries is very high because of the technology involved

In the next instalment in this series on silk we'll pick up with a more detailed look at silk

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>