

Title:

Why Should You Become A Lifelong Learner?

Word Count:

512

Summary:

I am a student, a teacher, and a mother (in order of the role's appearance in my life). Being

However, even if the role of a student wasn't forced on me by life I think I would be a lifelong

Keywords:

education, learning, college, university, adult, continuing, high school, preschool, child, te

Article Body:

I am a student, a teacher, and a mother (in order of the role's appearance in my life). Being

However, even if the role of a student wasn't forced on me by life I think I would be a lifelong

I love the investigation and the discovery involved in the process of learning. Sometimes only

I've always suspected that being a lifelong learner was a good thing and I recently came up with

However, researchers at the University of Toronto have found learning can not only be good for

Dr. Paul Nussbaum have also done extensive research in this area and he reports that new and o

Lifelong learning also offers additional ways to keep your brain healthy. Studies show that it

Finally there is the financial incentive for learning. Studies show a strong correlation betwe

Three very good reasons for becoming a lifelong learner include promoting your brain's health/

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>