

Title:

Creativity And The Jack Of All Trades

Word Count:

295

Summary:

You may be familiar with the saying, "Jack of all trades and master of none."

Well, I say, "Hooey." That's right. In fact, let me say it again. "Hooey."

It is perfectly possible to be a multipassionate person and do several things well. Many, even

But I think one reason many people can't do many things well, or think other p...

Keywords:

creativity, self-help, self improvement

Article Body:

You may be familiar with the saying, "Jack of all trades and master of none."

Well, I say, "Hooey." That's right. In fact, let me say it again. "Hooey."

It is perfectly possible to be a multipassionate person and do several things well. Many, even

But I think one reason many people can't do many things well, or think other people can't, is

It takes a lot of gumption to juggle two small kids, a deadline on an article, a pan of spaghe

It takes even more gumption, and creativity, to juggle five projects, and those same two kids

Sometimes the creativity is required to figure out how you can manage one thing later. "Jack, Sometimes the creativity is figuring out how to handle two projects at once. "Hmmm. If I write Sometimes the creativity is in finding a sensitive way to say, "I can't right now." "Samantha,

And sometimes the creativity is just in remembering that these are people, things and situatio

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>