

Title:

Diversity And Unity: Embracing Our Similarities

Word Count:

979

Summary:

Have you ever felt uncomfortable with someone because they were different than you? Maybe they

I had a disturbing experience this week, in which a person was publicly ridiculing me for my s

Keywords:

diversity,unity,honoring differences,embracing similarities,respect

Article Body:

Have you ever felt uncomfortable with someone because they were different than you? Maybe they

I had a disturbing experience this week, in which a person was publicly ridiculing me for my s

Maybe you've had a similar experience? Have you been rejected by someone because of your relig

First, fear of the unknown. If we have no personal experience with people of different culture

Another reason we fear people who are different is because we often feel threatened by them. I

This type of thinking usually stems from feelings of insecurity. When we feel insecure about o

A person who is truly self-confident feels no need to tear others down or ridicule or reject o

No matter how different we appear to be from each other, we have alot more in common than we t

Strive to focus on those things that we all have in common. No matter how different someone ap

I leave you with a popular Sanskrit word ~ Namaste ~ (pronounced nah-mah-STAY), which means "t

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>