

Title:

Expressing Your Love Through Service

Word Count:

769

Summary:

A client of mine told me that she had been making food for a friend of hers who was very ill.

Keywords:

helping others, generosity, serving others

Article Body:

A client of mine told me that she had been making food for a friend of hers who was very ill.

Doing service is a powerful way to open the heart and fulfill the soul. Those people who do service

There are many forms of service and we each need to find the way that works best for us. There are Doing service is a matter of discovering your passion and then offering your time and love. You

Steve discovered his passion for helping the elderly when his father became ill and was in a care

Toni had always loved animals. One day she discovered that there was a wonderful animal sanctuary

Work, too, can be service. When you experience your work as helping people and you love doing

In fact, anything you offer that expresses your love is service - your time, creativity, encouragement

The practice of service does not have to be done only on an individual level. It is possible for

Each of us needs to find the service that excites us, enlivens us and fills our heart with joy

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>