

Title:

Free stolen and lost car checks now available to UK motorists buying used cars.

Word Count:

422

Summary:

checkmyfile.com has opened up free access to the UK police stolen and lost car database to help

Keywords:

"used cars", finance, insurance, cars, police, motorbikes, mopeds, scooters,

Article Body:

Motorists no longer have to pay to find out if the used car or motorbike they are about to purchase

Checkmyfile.com has launched the UK's first free, online Police Stolen Vehicle Check, sanctioned by

Barry Stamp, Joint Managing Director of checkmyfile.com, the UK's leading online credit reporting

^Now a quick, free check of the police lost or stolen database, on checkmyfile.com, will help

The latest car theft index, produced by the Home Office, states that 282,816 cars and 50,591 mopeds

Government statistics show small saloon cars were the most likely type of car to be targeted by

Cars registered more than 13 years ago were the most likely to be stolen, according to Home Office

Scooters and mopeds were the most targeted motorbikes, with low powered motorbikes under-5-year

Checkmyfile.com's free online service can also be used to check the number plates of cars that

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>