

Title:

PricewaterhouseCoopers Indicates Fraud Remains a Key Global Threat

Word Count:

277

Summary:

Of those reporting fraud, 69 percent were of the opinion that fraud had affected their share p

Keywords:

PricewaterhouseCoopers Indicates Fraud Remains a Key Global Threat - November 2007

Article Body:

Of those reporting fraud, 69 percent were of the opinion that fraud had affected their share p

The study, entitled "Economic Crime: People, Culture and Controls," found that economic crime

Steven Skalak, Global Investigations and Forensics Leader, PricewaterhouseCoopers said, "Contr

According to the study, the reasons that were cited to enlighten why fraud is committed by ind

Fraud was as common in Brazil, China, India, Indonesia, Mexico, Russia and Turkey (E7 emerging

Skalak said, "Companies doing business in emerging economies need to understand the fraud risk

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>