The Soul Urge number is often revelatory because it also describes your inner desires as opposed to your outer desires. For instance, a person with a spiritually oriented number 9 Life Path Number could feel rather different from what they appear to be. As you can see, as we go on describing the function of the four core numbers that the readings are based on, the fourth core number, the KARMIC NUMBER is arrived at through the reduction of the consonant numbers. The Karmic number also possesses the odd quality of describing how others might see you as a function of your own self. For instance, a nurturing Life Path number six might strike others as a busybody or interfering. If anything, the Karmic Number can explain why sometimes you feel like you are "damned if you do and damned if you don't."
