

Title:

People Are Moving Out Of The City.

Word Count:

452

Summary:

Americans leaving the nation's big cities in search of cheaper homes

The Census Bureau measured domestic migration -people moving within the United States - and di

The report provides the number of people moving into and out of each state, and the 25 largest

Keywords:

migration

Article Body:

Americans leaving the nation's big cities in search of cheaper homes

The Census Bureau measured domestic migration -people moving within the United States - and di

The report provides the number of people moving into and out of each state, and the 25 largest

Many Americans are moving from large metropolitan areas to bordering counties for cheaper home

Westerners are moving inland. North-Easterners are moving West or South. And just about everyw

William Frey, demographer at the Brookings Institution explains that this is ^a middle class f

Housing prices are soaring in the metropolitan areas, even as the population shrinks. This is High housing costs on both coasts drove more Americans to cheaper cities nearby. One big winne

Homes in Riverside had a median price of 374,200 in 2005. That's not cheap, but it's certainly

Other areas that attracted a lot of new residents are Phoenix, Tampa-St. Petersburg, Fla., Atl

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>