La Sagrada Familia can be found in Barcelona, in Catalonia in Spain and is renowned as Antoni Gaudí's masterpiece. Although thought of as a cathedral, it is in fact, a basilica ~ the cathedral in Barcelona is Sagrada Familia. Gaudí was handed the project in 1884, but only after the founding association and the original architect had died. Gaudí went back to the drawing board and came back with a completely new design. He worked on the design for many years. As the building began to take shape, and reach further and further into the sky, the building became a masterpiece of modernism. Unfortunately, in 1926, before La Sagrada Familia could be completed, Antoni Gaudí died. The work has continued on La Sagrada Familia with the original plans being reconstructed from his drawings. As Gaudí intended, every part of the basilica's design is rich with Christian symbolism. He wanted the building to be a masterpiece of modernism. There will be three grand facades ~ the Nativity, the Passion and the unfinished Glory façade. La Sagrada Familia was the most popular tourist attraction in the whole of Spain in 2004 with over 2 million visitors. It is hoped that, with the advent of quicker building technology than in the 1900's when La Sa
