

Title:

Patagonia Atlantic Wonderful Coast

Word Count:

1380

Summary:

The article is about the Southern part of the Argentina Atlantic coast called Patagonia. This

Keywords:

argentina beaches, patagonia, atlantic, marine animals, dream vacations, family adventure, scu

Article Body:

Patagonia Atlantic Wonderful Coast

Extraordinary Argentina Beaches

Whales, penguins, guanacos, hares, marine elephants, birds: the almost virgin Patagonian region

Thousands of kilometers on the Atlantic Coast of Patagonia, Argentina, are waiting for the tra

The itinerary continues through Las Grutas, Puerto Madryn, Peninsula de Valdez, Punta Tombo, C

More details and information about these enchanting places can be found at www.travelargentina.com

The Atlantic Coast of Patagonia extends along approximately 4000 Kilometers, from the south of

These coasts ornamented with cliffs and beaches endlessly caressed by the winds and the blue w

Planning a trip along these coasts should take into consideration the season, not only regardi

Once the trip is planned, it is recommended to contact local specialized guides, who are acqu

Starting the Trip

Carmen de Patagones and the city of Rio Negro, are two cities located on the shores of the Rio

Route No. 1, or as called "The Route of the Cliffs", runs along the coast from Viedma, the cap

El Condor beach is the recommended stop before continuing south. El Espigon is where the Patag

Continuing south, passing the golden beaches of Bahia Creek, is found the Cove of Parrots or C

Punta Mejillon is also a small colony of marine wolves. It must be considered that the area is

The Second Part

True Atlantic jewels are being discovered by the tourists in recent years. Las Grutas is one o

Marine birds migrating between Tierra del Fuego and the North Pole find here a place to rest a

Right whales can be observed in San Matias Gulf, although the best place to see them is in Pue

Puerto Madryn, 260 Km from Las Grutas is the 'national capital of scuba diving" and the Patago

The Right whale can be seen here from every angle and perspective, size and color, right from

A close look is possible from Peninsula de Valdes, with a stop at the marine wolves' colony of

The routes within Peninsula de Valdes lead to other fauna important centers: Punta Delgada wit

Along the road it is possible to meet hares, mares and guanacos. The Bird Island, Isla de los

At some 150 Km from Puerto Madryn there is the extraordinary natural reserve of Punta Tombo, a Penguins can be observed also on the coast of the Province of Chubut: Camarones (between Trele

Route No 3 reveals the natural reserve of Cabo Dos Bahias where terrestrial fauna can be also

90 Km from Camarones is Bahia Bustamante, a village dedicated to the recollection of sea weeds

More information about the above mentioned places can be found in www.travelargentinabeaches.com

The Final Part

Puerto Deseado, in the Province of Santa Cruz, expects every year the arrival of the Yellow C...
Around 30 thousand of these birds invade the island between September and April. This is the c...
The province of Santa Cruz has another important natural reserve, the National Park Monte Leon...
The best know places for observation are Cabeza de Leon and Pico Quebrado.
Passing the last Argentinean continental spot, the part that is left to visit is Tierra de Fue...
The access to "The Land of Fire" is at the southernmost city of Ushuaia.
The foxes and guanacos are original species that have to share their habitat with other specie...
The Argentinean part of Tierra del Fuego is a National Park expanding over 240 square meters.
This is a land of adventure, full of options for trekking and hiking to short and long distanc...
The best time of year to travel there is November - March, but in all seasons the weather is m...
This is a fascinating coast for wildlife lovers.

More information about the extraordinary Atlantic Coast of Argentina can be found at: www.tra...

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>