

Title:

Terrorism via Plane, Train, Subway and Bus. Do you Feel Safe?

Word Count:

324

Summary:

History and our perception of the world changed dramatically with the 9-11 attacks. Today's tr

Keywords:

terrorism,terrorist,terrorists,tips,safety,security,rules,advice,prohibited,restricted,items,p

Article Body:

History and our perception of the world changed dramatically with the 9-11 attacks. Today's tr

Most travel and transport facilities have added special safeguards meant to combat terrorism:

- * Staff have received extra security training.
- * Sophisticated scanning equipment has been installed.
- * Regulations have been expanded regarding prohibited items in luggage.

The ultimate objective is your safety and security. Has it worked? Do you really feel safer?

Whether you answered 'yes' or 'no', you must comply with current regulations when you travel o

Different countries and transportation carriers have varying requirements. You won't find a si

In the USA, try tsa.gov and search for 'restricted items' or 'prohibited items'.

In Canada, visit tc.gc.ca, performing the same searches.

For other countries and carriers, use your favorite search engine and try some of the followin

- * Germany 'restricted items' air
- * Mexico 'restricted items' air
- * Europe 'restricted items' rail
- * Greyhound 'restricted items'

and so forth. Notice that 'restricted items' should be enclosed in quotation marks to produce

Your search efforts should produce appropriate websites in the first search results page of an

A partial list of items you should avoid in carry-on luggage would include:

- * Most metal knives
- * Large metal scissors
- * Fuel of any kind
- * Lighters and lighter fluid
- * Weapons and ammunition

- * Anything that looks like a weapon
- * Starting pistols
- * Liquid bleach
- * Aerosol products
- * Spray paint

Some items that are not permitted in carry-on luggage are allowed in checked suitcases.

Do your research - make sure you have the required documents - and pack carefully.

Now lose the fear, find your confidence, and enjoy your next trip!

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1
Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>
Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>