Article Body:

The first port for our Royal Caribbean cruise of the western Caribbean was Labadee, Hispaniola

There is a small section for kids with floating fake icebergs to climb and water slides but th

One big difference between this port compared to others is that since it is pretty well being

We found Labadee in general to be a bit of a waste of time for us. The beaches were too rocky

I like Royal Caribbean and would definitely cruise with them again but would not want to go on
