

Title:

Defensive Driving: The Basics

Word Count:

571

Summary:

It is a fact that though drives can control most of their actions most of the time, they are t

Keywords:

defensive driving

Article Body:

It is a fact that though drives can control most of their actions most of the time, they are t

What is defensive driving? Simply put, it is a way of driving where the driver takes every pos

Below are some of the basics of defensive driving:

Be ready with every possible situation that might happen on the roads. Constant preparedness i

Avoid showing road rage. You should also, as much as possible, avoid other drivers showing sig

The color of your car is very important in defensive driving. You are in a better position if

Remember to always use your headlight while night driving. It is very stupid, not to mention i

Always follow the three second rule of driving. According to this rule, a driver must always b

Never follow a vehicle, especially big trucks and busses too closely. By doing so, driver swil

Always avoid being in the blind side of other drivers. If an accident happens, It is pretty su

As much as possible, drive with a companion. This will ensure hat someone will be there with y

While on the road, avoid getting close to cars that are broken down or has damages. These cars

The above are just the basics of defensive driving. To know more about defensive driving and h

These are only a few of the defensive driving rules that are out there. You will find a wide r

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>