In a world where gas prices are at record heights, there are lying scumbags who will take advantage

First, there are fuel additives like the Platinum Gas Save and the BioPerformance pill. Neither

Then there are the Fuel Genie and Tornado, which are mounted in the air flow meter of your car

There is also the Predator and many similar knock-off products. The predator costs a hefty $40

No one want to save a few bucks on gas just to blow their engine!

Many mechanics are wary of all these additives and gizmos. "Yeah, you might get a little better

The Environmental Protection Agency has been looking for and testing gas-saving products for over
