With no power inside their home, Holmes and his family often could be found in their driveway,

"We would actually run out the front door to the car in the middle of the storm," Holmes said.

That live TV access helped the family keep up with the hurricanes, especially after original f

In less chaotic situations, Holmes and his family enjoy their TracVision A5 on long road trips

The TracVision A5 sits 5 inches high and receives more than 125 channels of satellite TV and c
