Article Body:

When needing a replacement part for your car, where do you shop? Like many motorists you may hear

The Salvage Yard. Let's admit it: there isn't anything wrong with going to the junkyard

Your Dealer. On the other side of the spectrum is your car dealer. If they don't have it

Your Retail Store. Retail auto supply chains typically have the broadest selection and

Shop Online. Wholesale providers of automobile replacement parts and accessories are spreading

One special warning: the growth of the counterfeit parts industry is causing fits for retailers

In all, shopping for parts is easier today, thanks to the internet. From the ease of your computer
