

Title:

Does the American government see its citizens as its children?

Word Count:

579

Summary:

The founding fathers had an idea for a country and a way to govern the people, by the people a

Keywords:

gambling, casino, government, poker, blackjack, taxes, prohibition, alcohol, internet gambling

Article Body:

In Americas 230 year history the government seems to have forgotten that there job is to run t

The most recent example is the Internet gambling Ban signed into law last week by President Bu

These games are harmlessly enjoyed regularly by millions of Americans everyday, but some peopl

This is not the first case of the government going against the wishes of the people, in the ea

But instead of reducing the consumption of Alcoholic beverages it increased, and because the g

Another great example of a failed policy to protect the people is the war on drugs that the go

The price of drugs has risen, and to support their habits many drug addicts have had to commit

The American prisons are packed full of people whose only crime was possession of these illeg

Instead of being an industry that is regulated and controlled you have people selling these dr

Had the government decided not to criminalize drugs but make it a heavily controlled industry,

Please do not misunderstand me I am not in favor for legalizing hard drugs, but the current sy

If I choose to play some hands of blackjack or poker from the comfort of my home what rights d

To enforce this ban millions if not billions of dollars of software and computer hardware will

The American government needs to start re-thinking its policy of treating its citizens like sm

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>