

Title:

The War Of High Quality Writing Instruments ~ The Fountain Pen

Word Count:

588

Summary:

High quality writing instruments have been around for centuries and continue to exist; from th

These high quality and highly functional writing instruments were being made around the world

The early fountain pens were not effective at providing a consistent and even supply of ink. Y

Keywords:

pens, fountain pen, writing instrument

Article Body:

High quality writing instruments have been around for centuries and continue to exist; from th

These high quality and highly functional writing instruments were being made around the world

The early fountain pens were not effective at providing a consistent and even supply of ink. Y

In 1870 Waterman developed a 3 channel feed which meant the ink flow was controlled during wri

Eyedropper pens leaked because the caps didn't fit really secure and the joint became worn fro

Parker and Sheaffer developed their own advancements; Parker with the button filler and lever

During the war the pen market continued to grow at an incredible rate. Pens were made from ebo

Men's pens were had a clip, while ladies were slightly smaller and had a ring top so they coul

But competition was fierce and quality writing instruments were everywhere, so to stay competi

Sheaffer introduced a line of pens in 1924 that were made from celluloid which were an instant

Many of the pen manufacturers ran into trouble during the 1930s but Parker, Wahl-Eversharp, Wa

In 1932 Parker introduced a vacuum filler system which eliminated the need for an ink sack. Pa

Sheaffer created two filling systems; the touchdown and snorkel which remained popular into th

High quality writing instruments have been demanded by civilization for centuries. It's intere

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>