

Title:

Writing Scripts Basics

Word Count:

555

Summary:

Let your Script breath...

Let a script breathe? Come on. A script isn't human (not before your shoot it) so how can it b

Think of it as a child, your child. You must have at least nine months of pregnancy to have a

Keywords:

script, script writing, short scripts, scripts about love

Article Body:

Let your Script breath...

Let a script breathe? Come on. A script isn't human (not before your shoot it) so how can it b

Think of it as a child, your child. You must have at least nine months of pregnancy to have a

You started writing knowing ~ more or less ~ what is the concept, where you are heading, what

You finally managed to finish a draft of the script - all 90 or 100 pages of it. You have now

My advise ~ Don't. Don't print it and don't distribute free copies to family members and close

You are now ready to start rewriting the 2nd draft which is very painful process to a writer.

How many drafts should you write ? No one can tell you that because the rewriting goes on even

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>